ABOUT FEIL

Forum for Emotional Intelligence Learning (FEIL) was created by the coming together of eminent academicians and professionals committed to a common cause of building caring and compassionate leadership in India. This seminar is a significant milestone.

The first step was taken by the top Leadership at Hindustan Petroleum Corporation Limited through their appreciative understanding of the need for inspirational Leadership as the pivot of organizational success. HPCL discovered that leaders must appeal to the heart as much as to the head because the best decisions happen through qualitative links between passion and reason. Emotional Intelligence is the ability to functionalize such links.

This seminar enables learning to integrate logic and passion for superior performance.
